- (3) The first day of week, commonly called Sunday, shall not be a holiday within the meaning of this rule.
- (b) Any employee who is required to work on a holiday shall be paid for such work at a straight-time rate, with the regular payment for that pay period in which the holiday occurs, or, at the option of the appointing authority, may be credited with compensatory time off.   - (c) Except as provided in subsections (l) and (o):
    - (1) overtime shall comprise hours of work, rounded to the nearest quarter of an hour, in excess of thirty-seven and one-half (37½) hours in a work week; and

(2) Employees other than those included in subdivision (1) shall not be eligible for compensation for overtime except in the following circumstances:

(A) The state personnel director, with the approval of the state budget agency, may authorize compensation for overtime worked by employees otherwise not eligible when such overtime is worked according to prescribed policy or based on a special approval.

(B) Overtime policies for exempt employees may be established by the director and state budget agency.

(C) Special approval to compensate overtime exempt employees can only be granted by the director and state budget agency.

(e) Except as provided in subsection (g), when an eligible employee has worked overtime which is compensable under this rule, payment for such overtime shall be made with the regular payment for that period in which the overtime hours were worked as follows:

- (1) Employees eligible for overtime compensation by reason of subsection (d)(2) shall be paid for overtime at a straight-time rate equal to the employee's regular hourly pay rate multiplied by the number of overtime hours worked.
- (2) Eligible employees whose regularly established minimum working week is thirty-seven and one-half (37½) hours or less shall be paid for overtime at a straight-time rate equal to the employee's regular hourly pay rate multiplied by the number of overtime hours worked for all such overtime which comprises less than forty (40) total hours of work within the work week.
- (3) Any overtime worked by an eligible employee, for which straight-time payment is not provided by this subsection, nor for which a different decision rule is provided by subsection (l) or (o), shall be paid at a time and a half rate equal to one and a half times the employee's regular hourly pay rate multiplied by the number of such overtime hours worked.
- (f) Requirements for payment for additional hours of work other than overtime shall be as follows:
  - (1) All employees whose regularly established work schedule is less than full time shall be paid for hours worked or hours worked together with sick days, vacation days, personal days, holidays, compensatory time off, or leaves of absence with pay, during the pay period, which are in addition to the employee's normal work schedule but which do not exceed the total number of hours of work in the regularly established work schedules of employees working full time in comparable positions within the same agency or department. Payment for such additional hours of work shall be made with the regular payment for that pay period in which the additional hours were worked, at a straight-time rate equal to the employee's regular hourly pay rate multiplied by the number of additional hours worked.
  - (2) Employees who are eligible for overtime payments under subsection (d) and whose regularly established work schedule is full time, shall be paid for hours other than overtime, as defined in subsection (c), worked during the pay period which together with sick days, vacation days, personal days, holidays, compensatory time off, or leaves of absence with pay, exceeds the total number of regularly scheduled hours of work in the employee's pay period. Payment for such additional hours of work shall be made with the regular payment for that pay period in which the additional hours were worked at a straight-time rate equal to the employee's regular hourly pay rate multiplied by the number of additional hours worked.
- (g) Requirements for compensatory time off shall be as follows:
  - (1) Rate of accrual to include the following:
    - (A) Employees eligible for overtime compensation under subsection (d)(1) may be granted compensatory time off in lieu of monetary payment for anticipated or earned overtime work:
      - (i) for overtime normally compensable under subsection (e)(3) or (l)(10)(D), compensatory time off shall be granted at a time and a half rate; and
      - (ii) for additional hours of work other than overtime, that is, that which is normally compensable under subsection (e)(2), (f)(2), or (l)(10)(C), compensatory time off shall be granted at a straight-time rate.
    - (B) Employees eligible for overtime compensation under subsection (d)(2) may be granted compensatory time off at a straight-time rate in lieu of monetary payment for anticipated or earned overtime work.
    - (C) Employees eligible for holiday compensation under subsection (b) may be granted compensatory time off at a straight-time rate in lieu of monetary payment for anticipated or earned holiday work.
  - (2) Limitation on amount of accrual to include the following:
    - (A) Employees eligible for overtime compensation under subsection (d)(1) and who are engaged in a public safety, emergency response, or seasonal activity may accrue no more than four hundred eighty (480) hours of compensatory time off.
    - (B) Employees eligible for overtime compensation under subsection (d)(1) and who are engaged in any work other than that described in clause (A) may accrue no more than two hundred forty (240) hours of compensatory time off.
    - (C) Compensable hours worked in excess of the limits contained in this subdivision must be compensated monetarily with the regular payment of wages for the pay period in which the time was worked.
  - (3) Use of compensatory time off to include the following:
    - (A) Employees eligible for overtime compensation under subsection (d)(1) shall be granted compensatory time off as follows:
      - (i) Unless otherwise approved by the director and state budget agency, all compensatory time off must be scheduled and taken off prior to the end of the calendar quarter succeeding the quarter in which the additional hours were worked.
      - (ii) An employee who has accrued compensatory time off authorized by this rule and who has requested the use of such compensatory time off, shall be permitted to use such time within a reasonable period after making the request if the use of the compensatory time does not unduly disrupt the operations of the public agency.

(B) Employees eligible for overtime compensation under subsection (d)(2) shall normally be given compensatory time off rather than monetary payment. If the needs of the service make the granting of compensatory time off impracticable, the appointing authority may request approval of the director and the state budget agency to compensate monetarily at the rate provided in subsection (e)(1).

(4) Monetary payment for accrued but unused compensatory time off to include the following:

(A) If monetary compensation is paid to an employee for accrued compensatory time off, such payment shall be at the regular rate earned by the employee at the time the employee receives such payment.

(B) An employee eligible for overtime compensation, by reason of subsection (d)(1), who has accrued compensatory time off as authorized by this section shall, upon termination of employment, be paid for the unused compensatory time off at the greater of:

(i) the average regular hourly rate received by such employee during the last three (3) years of the employee's employment; or

(ii) the final regular hourly rate received by such employee.

(h) (Repealed)

(i) Any payroll containing overtime payments must be accompanied, when submitted to the director by the appointing authority, by a written justification for each occurrence of overtime which is incurred.

(j) The director is authorized to establish and enforce any policies necessary for the implementation of this rule or to prescribe and enforce any policies concerning overtime or holiday compensation which are not inconsistent with this rule notwithstanding the internal policies of an agency or institution.

(k) The director of the state budget agency, in such manner as he deems necessary, may regulate the amounts of overtime to be worked in any agency or institution. Such regulation of overtime work may include a requirement that any or all overtime work, prior to its assignment, must be approved by the state budget agency.

(l) The appointing authority of an employee engaged in law enforcement activities (including security personnel in correctional institutions) may, with prior written approval of the director and state budget agency, elect to establish work periods and compensate overtime eligible employees in accordance with the following in lieu of subsection (c):

(1) The following requirements concerning definition of law enforcement activities:

(A) As used in this subsection, "any employee in law enforcement activities" refers to any employee:

(i) who is a uniformed or plainclothed member of a body of officers and subordinates who are empowered by statute or local ordinance to enforce laws designed to maintain public peace and order and to protect both life and property from accidental or willful injury and to prevent and detect crimes;

(ii) who has the power of arrest; and

(iii) who is presently undergoing or has undergone or will undergo on-the-job training and/or a course of instruction and study which typically includes:

(AA) physical training;

(BB) self-defense;

(CC) firearm proficiency;

(DD) criminal and civil law principles;

(EE) investigative and law enforcement techniques;

(FF) community relations;

(GG) medical aid; and

(HH) ethics.

Employees who meet these tests are considered to be engaged in law enforcement activities regardless of their status as trainee, probationary, or permanent employee, and regardless of their assignment to duties incidental to the performance of their law enforcement activities such as equipment maintenance, and lecturing or to support activities, whether or not such assignment is for training or familiarization purposes, or for reasons of illness, injury, or infirmity.

(B) Employees who do not meet each of the three (3) tests described in clause (A) are not engaged in law enforcement activities, as that term is used in this subsection. Such employees would include:

(i) building inspectors;

- (ii) health inspectors;
- (iii) animal control personnel;
- (iv) sanitarians;
- (v) civilian traffic employees who direct vehicular and pedestrian traffic at specified intersections or other control points;
- (vi) civilian parking checkers who patrol assigned areas for the purpose of discovering parking violations and issuing appropriate warnings or appearance notices;
- (vii) wage and hour compliance officers;
- (viii) equal employment opportunity compliance officers;
- (ix) tax compliance officers;
- (x) coal mining inspectors; and
- (xi) building guards whose primary duty is to protect the lives and property of persons within the limited area of the building.

(C) The term “any employee in law enforcement activities” also includes security personnel in correctional institutions. A correctional institution is any government facility maintained as part of a penal system for the incarceration or detention of persons suspected or convicted of having breached the peace or committed some other crime. Such facilities include:

- (i) penitentiaries;
- (ii) prisons;
- (iii) prison farms;
- (iv) reformatories; and
- (v) other facilities operated by the department of correction.

Employees of correctional institutions who qualify as security personnel for purposes of this subsection are those who have responsibility for controlling and maintaining custody of inmates and of safeguarding them from other inmates or for supervising such functions, regardless of whether their duties are performed inside the correctional institution or outside the institution (as in the case of road gangs). These employees are considered to be engaged in law enforcement activities regardless of their status as trainee, probationary, or permanent employee, and regardless of their assignment to duties incidental to the performance of their law enforcement activities, or to support activities whether or not such assignment is for training or familiarization purposes or for reasons of illness, injury, or infirmity.

(D) Not included in the term “employee in law enforcement activities” are the so-called civilian employees of law enforcement agencies or correctional institutions who engage in such support activities as those performed by dispatcher, radio operators, apparatus and equipment maintenance and repair workers, janitors, clerks, and stenographers. Nor does the term include employees in correctional institutions who engage in building repair and maintenance, culinary services, teaching, or in psychological, medical, and paramedical services. This is so even though such employees may, when assigned to correctional institutions, come into regular contact with the inmates in the performance of their duties.

(2) Employees engaged in law enforcement activities may also engage in some nonexempt work unless it exceeds twenty percent (20%) of the total hours worked by the particular employee during the applicable work period.

(3) The attendance at a bona fide police academy or other training facility, when required by the employing public agency, does not constitute engagement in exempt activities unless the employee in question meets all of the tests described in subdivision (1)(A) in which event such training or further training would be incidental to, and thus part of, the employee's law enforcement activities. Only the time spent in actual training or retraining constitutes compensable hours of work. All other time, such as that spent in studying and other personal pursuits, is not compensable hours of work even in situations where the employee is confined to campus or to barracks twenty-four (24) hours a day. Attendance at training facilities and schools, which is not required but which may incidentally improve the employee's performance of his or her regular tasks or prepare the employee for further advancement, need not be counted as working time even though the public agency may pay for all or part of such training.

(4) If an employee regularly engaged in exempt law enforcement activities also works for another department or agency, such employee will lose the exemption if the other work is unrelated to law enforcement activities. If, however, such employee's other job is also exempt work, the less of the two (2) exemptions should be claimed.

(5) Requirements for law enforcement volunteers shall be as follows:

- (A) Individuals who volunteer to perform law enforcement activities, usually on a part-time basis and as a public service, are not considered to be employees of the public agency which receives their services. Such individuals do not lose their volunteer status because their tuition may have been paid or they may have been reimbursed for attending special classes or other training to learn about law enforcement or because they are reimbursed for approximate out-of-pocket expenses incurred incidental to answering a call or to the cost of replacing clothing or other items of equipment which may have been consumed or damaged in responding to a call. Nor is the volunteer status of such individuals lost where the only material recognition afforded them is the holding of an annual party, the furnishing of a uniform and related equipment, or their inclusion in a retirement or relief fund, a workman's compensation plan or a life or health insurance program, or the payment of a nominal sum on a per call or other basis which may either be retained, in whole or in part, by the volunteer or donated to finance various social activities conducted by or under the auspices of the agency. Payments which average two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) per call will be considered nominal. Payments in excess of this amount may also qualify as nominal, depending upon the distances which must be traveled and other expenses incurred by the volunteer. For purposes of this clause, it is not necessary for the agency to maintain an exact record of expenses.

(B) Where, however, individuals engaged in law enforcement activities receive more than a nominal amount of payment on a basis which does not reasonably approximate the expenses incurred by them, they are employees rather than volunteers and must be paid in accordance with this subsection.

(C) Volunteers engaged in law enforcement activities may include individuals who are employed in some other capacity by the same public agency.

(D) Police officers of one (1) jurisdiction may engage in law enforcement activities on a voluntary basis for another jurisdiction where there is no mutual aid agreement or other relationship between the two (2) jurisdictions. Such employees cannot, however, perform law enforcement activities on a voluntary basis for their own agency, although they can engage in other activities not directly related to these primary functions. For example, a police officer could volunteer to counsel young juveniles who are members of a boy's club or other similar organizations.

(6) Rules for determining the tour of duty, work period, and compensable hours of work, generally, shall be as follows:

(A) Public agency employees engaged in law enforcement activities are unique. Therefore, computation of hours worked on the basis of a work period (which can be longer than a work week) and which bases the overtime requirements on a work period concept is permitted. Where an agency properly elects this subsection, it must be used for purposes of both the overtime requirements and hourly rate determination.

(B) If, however, any public agency chooses not to claim the partial overtime exemption provided in this subsection, but elects to pay overtime compensation as defined in subsection (c), it need not concern itself with the tour of duty or work period discussion which follows or with the special rules relating to the determination of what constitutes compensable hours of work since, in that event, overtime would be payable on a work week basis and the regular method of computing hours worked would apply. Such an agency would not, however, be able to take advantage of the special provisions relating to the balancing of hours over an entire work period and trading time.

(7) As used in this subsection, "tour of duty" means the period during which an employee is on duty. It may be a scheduled or unscheduled period. Scheduled periods refer to shifts, that is, the period of time which elapses between scheduled arrival and departure times, or to scheduled periods outside the shift, as in the case of a special detail involving crowd control during a parade or other such event. Unscheduled periods refer to time spent in court by police officers, time spent handling emergency situations, or time spent after a shift in order to complete required work. When an employee actually works fewer hours than those scheduled, the employee's tour of duty is reduced accordingly. Nothing in this subsection precludes agencies from establishing new tours of duty for their employees, provided, however, that the change is intended to be permanent at the time that it is made.

(8) Compensable hours of work generally include all of that time during which an employee is on duty, on the employer's premises, or at a prescribed workplace, as well as all other time during which the employee is suffered or permitted to work for the employer. Such hours thus include all pre-shift and post-shift activities which are an integral part of the employee's principal activity or which are closely related and to its performance such as attending roll call or writing up and completing reports. It also includes time which an employee spends in attending required training classes. Time spent away from the employer's premises under conditions so circumscribed that they restrict the employee from effectively using the time for personal pursuits also constitutes compensable hours of work. For example, a police officer who is required to remain at home until summoned to testify in a pending court case and who must be in a constant state of instant readiness is engaged in compensable hours of work. On the other hand, employees who are confined to barracks while attending police academies are not on duty during those times when they are not in class or at a training session since they are free to use such time for personal pursuits. Also, a police officer who has completed his or her tour of duty but who is given a patrol car to drive home and use on private business is not working simply because the radio must be left on so that the officer can respond to emergency calls. Of course, the time spent in responding to such calls would be compensable, except in those instances where it is miniscule and cannot, as an administrative matter, be recorded for payroll purposes.

(9) Requirements for sleeping and mealtime as compensable hours of work shall be as follows:

(A) Where the employer has elected to use this subsection, mealtime cannot be excluded from compensable hours of work unless the employee is completely relieved from duty for a bona fide meal period. It is not necessary that an employee be permitted to leave the premises if he or she is otherwise completely freed from duties during the meal period.

(B) Sleep time may be excluded in the case of law enforcement employees who are on duty for more than twenty-four (24) hours. However, sleep time shall, in no event, exceed eight (8) hours, in a twenty-four (24) hour period. If such sleep time is interrupted by a call to duty, the interruption must be counted as hours worked, and, if the period is interrupted to such an extent that the employee cannot get a reasonable night's sleep (which, for enforcement purposes, means at least five (5) hours), the entire time must be counted as hours of work.

(10) Requirements for the work period shall be as follows:

(A) As used in this subsection, "work period" refers to any established and regularly recurring period of work which cannot be less than seven (7) consecutive days nor more than twenty-eight (28) consecutive days. Except for this limitation, the work period can be of any length, and it need not coincide with the pay period or with a particular day of the week or hour of the day. Once the beginning time of an employee's work period is established, however, it remains fixed regardless of how many hours are worked within that period. The beginning of the work period may, of course, be changed, provided that the change is intended to be permanent at the time that it is made.

(B) An agency may have one (1) work period applicable to all of its employees, or different work periods for different employees or groups of employees. The agency must, however, make some notation in its records which shows the work period for each employee and which indicates the length of that period and its starting time.

(C) For those employees who have a work period of at least seven (7) but no more than twenty-eight (28) consecutive days, no overtime compensation is required unless the ratio between the number of days in the work period and the hours worked during such work period exceeds the ratio between a work period of twenty-eight (28) days and one hundred sixty (160) hours. If the ratio between the number of the days in the work period and the hours worked during such work period exceeds the ratio between a work period of twenty-eight (28) days and one hundred sixty (160) hours but is less than the ratio between twenty-eight (28) days and one hundred seventy-one (171) hours, the additional hours are paid for at the employee's regular hourly rate of pay.

(D) For those employees who have a work period of at least seven (7) but no more than twenty-eight (28) consecutive days, no overtime compensation at a premium rate is required until the ratio between the number of days in the work period and the hours worked during such work period exceeds the ratio between a work period of twenty-eight (28) days and one hundred seventy-one (171) hours at which point all additional hours are paid for at one and one-half (1½) times the employee's regular rate of pay.

(E) Accordingly, overtime compensation at the rate indicated in this clause must be paid for all hours worked in excess of the following maximum hours standards:

Work Period (Days)	Straight-time	Time and a Half
	Overtime Payable for Hours in Excess of	Payable for Hours in Excess of

(11) Another common practice or agreement among employees engaged in law enforcement activities is that of substituting for one another on regularly scheduled tours of duty (or for some part thereof) in order to permit an employee to absent himself or herself from work to attend to purely personal pursuits. This practice is commonly referred to as trading time. The practice of trading time will be deemed to have no effect on hours of work if the following criteria are met:

(A) The trading of time is done voluntarily by the employees participating in the program and not at the behest of the employer.

(L) Date of payment and the pay period covered by payment.

(2) With respect to employees working on fixed schedules, an employer may maintain records showing, instead of the hours worked each day and each week, the schedule of daily and weekly hours the employee normally works, and:

(A) in weeks in which an employee adheres to this schedule, indicates by check mark, statement, or other method that such hours were in fact actually worked by him or her; and

(B) in weeks in which more or less than the scheduled hours are worked, shows the exact number of hours worked each day and each week.

(1) The employee must retire after June 30, 1995, but before January 1, 1997.

(2) The employee must not be eligible for Medicare coverage as prescribed by 42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.

Sec. 2. (a) For the purpose of paying early retiree health insurance premiums, the value of accrued but unused and uncompensated vacation is determined by dividing by ten (10) the retiree's regular biweekly salary, as reflected on the state personnel department's staffing report as of the date of separation, and multiplying the quotient by the number of vacation days that were accrued, unused, and uncompensated at the time of separation.

(b) The retiring employee has the option to receive monetary compensation for up to six (6) weeks of accrued but unused vacation leave upon separation in good standing, under 31 IAC 1-9-3(f)(1), or to forgo all or part of that monetary compensation and convert those vacation days into health insurance premium payments under this rule. The retiring employee's election under this subsection is irrevocable.

Rule 13. Termination Due to Governmental Reorganization

31 IAC 1-13-1 Governmental reorganization; priority consideration for terminated employees

Authority: IC 4-15-1.8-6; IC 4-15-1.8-7

Affected: IC 4-15-1.8-8

Sec. 1. (A) Any employee in the non-merit service whose employment is terminated as a direct result of state governmental reorganization shall be given priority consideration for employment in vacant positions which are of the same or similar class as that in which the employee was employed at the time his employment was terminated.

(B) "Governmental Reorganization" means merger, growth, transfer, discontinuance, or phasing out of state governmental functions. State governmental functions shall not include the maintenance of positions of employment in federally-funded public service employment. Transfer of state governmental functions shall not include intra-agency transfers of positions, but shall include the transfer of functions from one (1) state agency to another. Discontinuance or phasing out of state governmental functions shall not include the expiration of seasonal or temporary terms of employment.

(C) Priority consideration means that former employees who are eligible shall be given consideration for same or similar vacant positions to be filled in the following manner:

(1) If the agency in which the vacancy exists is the same agency from which the former employee was terminated, the appointing authority shall make reasonable effort to offer employment in such positions to eligible former employees prior to making any offers of employment to persons not eligible for priority consideration.

(2) If the agency in which the vacancy exists is not the same agency from which the former employee was terminated, the appointing authority shall make reasonable efforts to interview and consider the eligible former employees prior to the consideration of other persons.

(D) Procedures.

(1) To be eligible for priority consideration, the former employee must make written application to the State Personnel Director within thirty (30) days from the date of his termination. Upon receipt of such request, the Director shall determine if the employee is eligible for priority consideration as provided by this rule.

(2) If the Director certifies the former employee as eligible, the Personnel Division shall provide the following assistance:

(a) Provide personal consultation concerning employment opportunities in state government.

(b) Refer eligibles to available job openings in the non-merit service.

(E) Conditions of Eligibility. A former employee certified by the Director as eligible for priority consideration shall retain priority consideration for a period of one (1) year from the date of his termination. However, the eligible former employee shall be deemed to have waived eligibility if he declines appointment under such conditions as he has previously indicated he would accept. Failure to respond within five (5) working days to an inquiry of the Director or appointing authority, by letter or twenty-four (24) hours by telephone, or to accept appointment when offered, or to report for duty by the time prescribed by the appointing authority shall constitute declination. A former employee whose eligibility is waived due to declination of appointment shall, upon his request, be returned to eligible status unless he has waived eligibility due to declination of appointment two (2) previous times. Any former employee having so waived eligibility two (2) previous times may not be returned to eligible status. It shall be the responsibility of the eligible former employee to provide the State with a current address at which he may be contacted.

(F) Determination of Same or Similar Positions. Eligibility of former employees to priority consideration is limited to those positions which are in the same or similar job classification as that in which the eligible was employed at his termination as shall be determined by the Director.

In determining which positions are same or similar, the Director shall utilize the following criteria:

Positions which are the same are those represented by identical class codes and class titles.

For a position to be considered as similar to that held by an eligible upon his termination, the class must:

(1) Have minimum qualifications which are comparable to the former employee's class held at termination or have minimum qualifications which are generally satisfied by possession of the minimum qualifications to the class held by the former employee at termination. If no minimum qualifications are adopted by the agency, the Director shall utilize the minimum qualifications required for employment in that class within the state merit service.

(2) Both classes must be in the same or a comparable job family.

(3) The skill level of the class must be the same or lower than the skill level of the class the former employee held at termination.

(G) Implementation of Governmental Reorganization.

(1) The appointing authority of an agency anticipating or undergoing a governmental reorganization shall notify the Director of all changes or anticipated changes as soon as possible.

(2) If an employee is terminated due to governmental reorganization, the appointing authority shall identify the termination as a lay-off and shall request the Director to consider the action as due to governmental reorganization. No lay-off due to governmental reorganization shall be effective without the approval of the Director.

(3) The Director, in anticipation of lay-offs due to governmental reorganization, may establish procedures for the transfer of employees who are anticipated to be laid off.

(H) Reinstatement of Service Credits. Eligible former employees, hired in the non-merit service during their period of eligibility, shall be:

(1) Credited as having continuous service except that time spent in out-of-pay status as a result of their termination due to governmental reorganization shall be deducted.

(2) Credited with all accumulated sick and vacation days which they held upon their termination due to governmental reorganization except accumulated vacation days for which payment was made as provided in Rule 9, Section 9-3 (F) 1 [31 IAC 1-9-3 (F)(1)].

(I) A former employee who is hired by a new agency or in a new work location, while the employee is eligible for priority consideration, shall be allowed relocation expenses in accordance with Budget Agency regulations. (State Personnel Department; Non-Merit Agency Personnel Rule 13; filed Feb 15, 1978, 3:25 pm: Rules and Regs. 1979, p. 42; readopted filed May 4, 2001, 4:29 p.m.: 24 IR 2895) NOTE: Transferred from the Indiana Department of Administration (25 IAC 3) to the State Personnel Department (31 IAC 1) by Acts 1981, P.L.30, SECTION 3 (IC 4-15-1.8-8). The affected agencies shall return the suggestion to the Suggestion Committee, with a statement of its findings as to the viability of the suggestion, whether or not the suggestion will be implemented, and an estimate of the savings to be realized in the first year after implementation. The Suggestion Committee may then authorize payment of an award to the employee submitting the suggestion. (State Personnel Department; 31 IAC 1-14-1; filed Aug 17, 1982, 3:41 pm: 5 IR 2107; readopted filed May 4, 2001, 4:29 p.m.: 24 IR 2895)

(2) If the anticipated first year savings is $200,000 or less, but greater than $100,000 the maximum award allowable is 2 1/2% of the first year savings plus 5% of $100,000.
