(h) A resident shall be billed for maintenance charges as follows:

(1) The maintenance charge shall be:

(A) billed monthly; and

(B) mailed to the address designated by the resident on the resident's application for admission.

(2) A resident shall be charged for the day of admission but not for the day of discharge. For purposes of this subdivision, one (1) day is the twenty-four (24) hour period ending at midnight.

(3) A billing shall state the date by which payment shall be received.

Failure of the home to comply with subdivisions (1) through (3) shall not relieve the resident of the obligation to pay.

(i) The amount of the billed maintenance charge may be redetermined at any time upon a change in circumstances related to the resident's ability to pay.

(j) A resident's account is considered delinquent if a resident willfully refuses or willfully fails to pay the maintenance charge bill by the due date. Residents shall be notified if payment has not been received by the due date printed on the bill. A willful refusal or willful failure to pay occurs when:

(1) the decision of whether to pay is completely within the control of the resident;

(2) a resident has the ability or resources to pay the maintenance charge and fails to pay; or

(3) a resident has not paid his or her maintenance costs and fails to apply for the maximum of every benefit or assistance program available, as required by 410 IAC 30-2-2(b).

(k) The home shall not require a third party guarantee for payment to the home as a condition of admission or continued stay at the home.
